About the Grand Jury

The San Joaquin County Civil Grand Jury's duty is to address citizens' concerns regarding the operation of local government entities.

The Civil Grand Jury is composed of 19 citizens who are impaneled annually for a one-year term. The Grand Jury has a separate and distinct function from that of a trial jury and does not hear cases in a courtroom. Instead, grand jurors examine and investigate local governmental activities within San Joaquin County.

The responsibilities of the Civil Grand Jury encompass the examination of all aspects of county government, including school and special assessment districts, to ensure that the County is being governed lawfully and efficiently, and that public monies are being handled appropriately. The Grand Jury may conduct investigations of public agencies and the administration and affairs of any city within the county.

Training is Provided

Training is provided to all members of the grand jury. Opportunities to receive training seminars by both the California Grand Jurors Association and our local grand jurors' chapter are available to new jurors.

Our grand jurors receive orientation about the role of the grand jury and about local government.

Grand Jury Investigations

The Grand Jury receives complaints regarding all levels of local government. They may include, but are not limited to, allegations of misconduct by public officials or employees and inefficiencies in local government. Any citizen may submit a complaint by completing a Complaint Form.

Complaints are treated as confidential. This allows a complainant to come forward without intimidation.

Generally, the Grand Jury provides the complainant with a written acknowledgement of receipt of a complaint. However, with so many possible investigations, the grand jury must make hard decisions about what investigations to undertake during its term.
